Chapter 1 by Alexia Kemp

Irol is a creative girl who lives in dreamworld. She has never been to any other world such as, super world, fairy world, and human world. She really wanted to go to the human world. Nobody would let her go. They all say it was too dangerous, but tomorrow all of that is going to change.

“Irol don’t go!”, said Irol’s mother. Her mother was too late, her daughter had already left to the human world. Irol eventually became older and grew up in the human world. She became a doctor. She enjoyed this new world. In fact she enjoyed it so much that she changed her name by spelling it backwards to make it, Lori. Of course she missed all the nice people at dream world, but she never complained.

One day, Lori, wanted to take some risks. Risks that could end her life. The first risk she took was bungee jumping it was scary for her but she loved it. Next she went to amusement parks. Lori loved them so much she decided to go every Thursday. Finally, she went skydiving. As she slowly lifted off the ground in a helicopter she got a bit scared, but once they were in the air there was no turning back.

Lori jumped out in the air. The cool breeze on her face made her feel young again. She reached to pull her parachute cord and or... out. So she pulled it again, and still nothing. She was getting... the emergency cord, nothing. She was thinking... the cord right out of the pack. She was doomed.

Lori was heading straight for concrete and steel. Instead she tried landing for some softer ground. Lori leaned to the left, and was soon heading for the ocean. She fell and hit the ocean and did a belly-buster. Lori screamed in pain, clenching her stomach. She swam to a beach. The beach had people who contacted the ambulance. Next thing Lori knew she was in the hospital. The doctor told Lori's friends that she wouldn't make it, but he didn't know she was from a different world.

Lori changed her name back to Irol, and went back to dream world. Where she found a husband and had six kids. She always enjoyed talking about her near death experience.
